→ getting connected

1 Install Microsoft® ActiveSync® on your desktop PC.

Install ActiveSync from the Microsoft CD-ROM packaged with your HP Jornada.

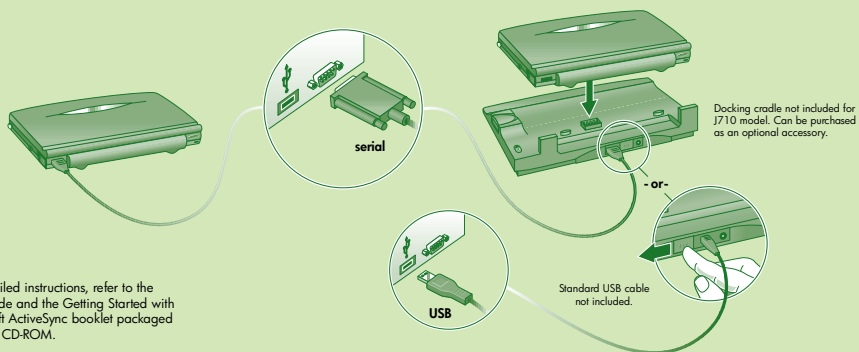

Note: If you do not already have a version of Microsoft Outlook on your desktop PC, please install Outlook 2000 before you install ActiveSync.

Outlook 2000 is included in the Extras folder of the Microsoft CD-ROM.

2 Connect the cradle or sync cable to your desktop PC, and then to your HP Jornada.

Choose your desired connection method (serial or USB) and set up your HP Jornada as shown in the illustration below. Your HP Jornada will automatically detect the connection type and will configure itself to communicate with your desktop PC.

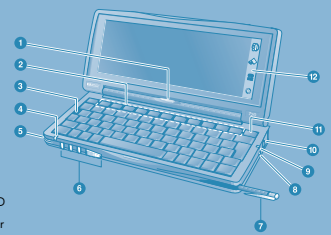

3 When you connect your HP Jornada to your desktop PC, the New Partnership Wizard should start automatically. Follow the instructions on your screen to type a name for your HP Jornada and set synchronization options.

For detailed instructions, refer to the user guide and the Getting Started with Microsoft ActiveSync booklet packaged with the CD-ROM.
